Freeride course

Description

The freeride course was born to learn to live the mountain far away from civilized world to be free to express oneself and vent in touch with nature without forgetting to respect it. Freeriding and having fun means to practice it in total security and that's the primary goal of this course.

Four days where, with growing engagement, you will learn the basic notions to practice this marvellous discipline.

During the exits we will handle the topics of: Artva research, topography, GPS use and hints of Snow Science.
