Snowshoes hiking under the stars

Description

Usually organized close to full moon days, those excursions will allow us to discover the mountain after sunset. With snow sounds muffles, moving gets harder even for animals. In this short travel together we'll look for their footprints, we'll play to guess the sounds all around us. Depending on your requests we'll find the best spots. Excursions ranging from few minutes to a couple of hours.

Welcoming us back you'll find a lovely banquet and some space for chat over a nice glass of wine and a cup of coffee!
